

A WORLD THAT BREATHES OUT

Akil Ahamat

April 11–May 18, 2019

Opening April 11, 6pm

Artist talks May 18, 1–3pm

a world that breathes out is comprised of an installation made up of the traces of a speculative therapeutic technology. In a duet with the water that it superceded, the sonic shower sings a slow lament before it is washed back into the earth.

Works (R to L)

sonic shower (remnants), 2019

curved glass, cast concrete, solid drive transducer, laser cut plywood, oil-based enamel, peat coir,
pvc piping, concrete,

be tormented by me babe, 2019

3D printed resin, HUDA 24K,
acrylic paint

VERGE GALLERY

PROVIDED BY UNIVERSITY OF
SYDNEY UNION